With headquarters in Southern California and a San Francisco office, Raj Tents is the leader in a new category of luxury tenting. A Raj tent is a stand-alone extravaganza. The flamboyant exterior skin and interior liner in bold colors, with detailing of woodblock print, mirror work and tassels, resembles an elaborate stage set.

The ornate tents are functional as well as stunning. They serve as décor, shade and shelter while exuding a Bollywood or "beach chic" feeling, and are well suited for an Indian, Moroccan, luxury-enhanced or shoreline-themed events. The vibrantly colored, handcrafted tents, with their scalloped, embroidered valances and appliqué treatments, make a bold statement.

"To complete the look, we offer a collection of themed accessories like Moroccan lamps, silk-upholstered low seating and handwoven dhurrie accent rugs," says Maurice Walsh, co-founder of the company. "Ornate ceiling treatments, wall draping and Mughal arched wall treatments complete the look."

WALSH'S TIP: "One specialty tent can be a centerpiece for an event."
